Give To The World

The Rosh Yeshiva Says:

When someone comes to the Rebbe he gets very inspired, then after some time it wears off. However if he goes ahead and inspires others, then his own original inspiration stays. A person must either do for others, or you must be doing for your own self. Reb Levi Yitzchok once asked someone for Tzedaka, when this person said he doesn't have, then he was told that he needs to write his name down to receive donations. He said I don't give and I don't need to get. This is incorrect, we need to always look for how we can give to the world.

Shake From Fear

The Rosh Yeshiva Says:

We are right now at the week where we are Bentching Rosh Chodesh Elul. The Bardichever Rebbe said that when we Bentch Rosh Chodesh Elul, at the time when the Baal Tefillah says the words 'Rosh Chodesh Elul', even the fish in the sea shake from fear. Everything that will occur during the upcoming year will be written on Rosh Hashanah. Reb Nosson said, we must be really afraid that we do not have any fear. Elul is not compared to the other months of the year, and if we listen to the Rebbe it will be good for us.

Don't Procrastinate

The Rosh Yeshiva Says:

Every good thing that we do is very respected in Shamayim. Let alone learning and Davening and doing Chesed for others. This is the main thing that we receive reward for in Shamayim. Don't be a procrastinator, grab a Perek Mishnayos, a Blatt Gemorah, say the words even without understanding. Go for a walk with Hashem for a few minutes everyday. Speak to him, say these words: 'Hashem, I can speak with people about nonsense for hours as the day goes by, but with you it's so hard for me to speak, I can barely say the word 'Hashem', help me speak to you'.

Smile To Everyone

The Rosh Yeshiva Says:

You need to work on yourself, that you should have good manners, and mainly on Simcha. Make sure to only be happy. Smile to everyone, especially to your wife, you should only smile at her and give her good words. Honor her, and speak nicely to her. This way you will have the Shechina resting in your home. Just as Chazal said in (Sota 17a), "A man and woman who live at peace with each other, Hashem rests amongst them", and if the Shechina is there, then they will have all blessings.

A New Beginning

The Rosh Yeshiva Says:

Today is a good time to start a new beginning of learning everyday a Daf Gemorah. There is nothing that connects a person closer to Hashem than the holy Gemorah. This is why there are so many excuses, later, soon, tomorrow, my chavrusa, a shiur, other than to open the Gemorah. We get so busy, we come, we go, and the Yetzer Horah comes from under the ground only to get us to not open the Gemorah. We must be very strong, to make sure that we open up the Gemorah everyday.

Happy People

The Rosh Yeshiva Says:

There is no reason to go around with bitterness. Walk around with a smile, smile to everyone. People like happy people, they don't like a bitter person, someone who always complains, cries and talks about all his problems. They will all run away from him, no one is interested in someone else's hardships. The holy Rebbe said in (Lekutei Mohahran 1:29), "Everyone likes to hear good things", only tell people about the good that Hashem does, and by Hisbodidus, you should cry and moan. There was once a Breslever Chusid who had nothing, literally nothing, and he used to tell everyone, "Hashem is so good to me, Hashem gives me only good".
